Athletic Director Richard Hazelton

In 2007-08, the Trinity athletic program flourished as its varsity teams compiled a stellar 510-202 record. The Bantam men's cross country, men's basketball, men's ice hockey, baseball, women's lacrosse, and women's rowing teams earned berths to the NCAA Division III Championship, while several individual athletes qualified for their respective sport's championships. The baseball team enjoyed a historic ride to the program's first NCAA National title, breaking numerous records with 44 wins to start the year and a 45-1 final mark. The women's rowing squad finished second at the NCAA National Regatta, while the men's crews took home the ECAC National crown and their fourth New England Championship title in a row. The Trinity men's squash team captured its 10th consecutive national title with an 18-0 record and extended the nation's longest winning streak in any collegiate sport to 183 triumphs in a row. Both the men's and women's squash teams and the men's basketball, men's ice hockey, baseball, and men's rowing teams won NESCAC titles.

Since 1982, Director of Athletics Richard J. Hazelton has taken strides toward creating a winning environment at Trinity College. Competing on the NCAA Division III level, Trinity College sponsors 29 intercollegiate sports, 15 for men and 14 for women. In addition, there are numerous intramural and club sports in which non-varsity athletes can participate. In Hazelton's tenure, the College has constructed an eight-lane, 37-meter swimming pool, 16-seat rowing tanks, a vastly improved fitness room, the nation's top squash facility, two synthetic turf fields, a rowing boathouse, and numerous improvements to the playing fields and facilities. The College's newest facility, the Koeppel Community Sports Center and Williams Rink, opened in 2006 to give the Bantam ice hockey teams their first on-campus home ice and provide a fantastic venue for skating and other activities for the campus and Hartford communities.

Hazelton earned his bachelor's degree from Marietta College in 1966 and received a master's of science degree in sports administration from the University of Massachusetts in 1976. Hazelton taught history and was an assistant football coach at Lancaster High School in Ohio from 1969-73 before becoming the head freshman football coach at Amherst College in 1973.

In 1974, Hazelton came to Trinity when he was named an assistant professor of physical education, head track & field coach, and assistant football coach. For eight seasons, Hazelton worked under former Head Football Coach Don Miller, helping Trinity record six winning campaigns and a 42-21-1 record, a .664 winning percentage.

In January 1982, Hazelton assumed the duties of the acting associate athletic director when Karl Kurth took a sabbatical leave. Kurth subsequently retired, and Hazelton was named Trinity's director of athletics and department chair. In 1989, Hazelton was promoted to professor of physical education. He has been a Core Consulting faculty member of Charter Oak State College since 1997.

During his tenure, Hazelton has been extremely active on various committees throughout the region and the nation. Previously the chairman of the ECAC North/South Hockey Tournament (1987-91) and a member of the ECAC Finance Committee (1993-96), Hazelton has also served on the NCAA Voting Committee (1987-90), the NCAA Football Rules Committee (1996-00), the NCAA Competitive Safeguards and Medical Aspects of Sports Committee (1998-00), and NCAA Committee on Committees (1990-93). In addition, Hazelton was the chairman of the NECAC selection committee for Division III Male Athlete of the Year from 1988-92 (member 1985-93), chairman of the ECAC Division III lacrosse tournament in 1990 and 1996-98, and a member of both the ECAC East-West Hockey Tournament Committee from 1996-99 and the ECAC Ice Hockey Executive Committee (1990-98). Hazelton was chairman of the ECAC Collegiate Rowing Championship Regatta Board of Stewards (member since 1995) and was a member of both the ECAC Football Executive Committee, the ECAC Marketing Committee, and the ECAC Division III Basketball Tournament Committee. From 1982-1999, Hazelton served as the treasurer for the New England Small College Athletic Conference, and was president in 1990-91 and 2005-06. In 2002, Hazelton was awarded the General Robert Neyland Athletic Director Award by the All-American Football Foundation.

Hazelton and his wife, Anne, reside in nearby Windsor and have three sons, all of whom have studied at Trinity and played varsity lacrosse: Tad '92, who also played football, James '93, and Alex '99.

Athletic Facilities

No fitness and athletics program can be a success without quality facilities and equipment. Ours is no exception to that rule. Trinity's sports and athletic programs are enhanced by many top-notch facilities.

Central to all fitness and athletic programs is the Ferris Athletic Center, which houses many of the facilities used by students and athletes. These include our superb squash facility, the Kellner Squash Center, which is a fitting home base for the top men's and women's squash programs in the country. It features 10 international-size courts, two of which are constructed with three glass walls for easy spectator viewing, as well as pyramid-style, amphitheater seating that enables up to 500 spectators to watch matches on all 10 courts simultaneously. Trinity is the only collegiate squash program to use the white ball.

The Ferris Center is also home to the Ray Oosting Gymnasium, with seating for 2,100. It boasts two volleyball courts and two basketball courts and was the site of the men's NCAA Division III basketball regional playoffs in 1995.

Trinity's popular 5,400 square-foot fitness center offers the full complement of fitness machines and state-of-the-art equipment, including selectorized weight machines, treadmills, ellipticals, stairmasters, lifecycles, ergometers, and free weights. Cable television viewing is also available on both the upper and lower levels. The fitness center is open to all students and members of the faculty and staff 16 hours a day, seven days a week.

Other indoor facilities include a multipurpose field house with a 1/10th-mile track and indoor tennis courts, wrestling and exercise rooms, and an auxiliary gymnasium.

Swimmers and divers at Trinity train in our Natatorium, which features a 25-yard, eight-lane stretch pool and a 14-foot deep diving well with a movable bulkhead for water polo. The divers train on one- and three-meter boards and full-size and mini trampolines.

Trinity's rowing program takes advantage of both Hartford's proximity to the magnificent Connecticut River and an indoor rowing facility housed in the Ferris Athletic Center. The newly renovated Friends of Trinity Rowing Boathouse sits just 15 minutes away in East Hartford. The spacious facility houses 12 eights, seven fours, and numerous smaller boats, as well as men's and women's locker rooms, a study and common room, and a land training area. In the off-season, rowers also stay in shape using our 16-seat rowing tanks and 40 stationary ergometers located in Ferris Athletic Center.

The Jesse/Miller Field, named after two legendary Trinity football coaches, features the College's football field with a modern FieldTurf playing surface, all-weather, six-lane (eight-lane straightaway), 400-meter track, and stadium seating for 6,500 people.

The College's wide range of outdoor facilities, also includes Robin L. Sheppard Field, named after another of Trinity's greatest coaches, a state-of-the-art artificial turf field hockey and lacrosse field with lights, along with two Class A soccer/lacrosse fields, softball and baseball diamonds, eight tennis courts, and four recently renovated intramural fields.

The Koeppe Community Sports Center opened its doors in November 2006, and is a multi-use athletic facility on the southern edge of campus. It features the Albert Creighton Williams '64 Rink, a state-of-the-art 200' x 90' ice arena that serves as home-ice for Trinity men's and women's ice hockey teams, and provides opportunities for faculty, students, and staff to collaborate with the community through academic and athletic mentoring programs. Designed as an extension of the Learning Corridor educational campus, the sports center meets one of SINA's key objectives—providing safe space for recreational opportunities and constructive programming for the community. The Koeppe Center may be the first urban community athletic facility in the country that connects neighborhood families with the resources of a liberal arts college.

COACHING STAFF

HEAD COACH: Wendy Davis

Wendy Davis begins her fourth season as head coach of the Trinity College women's basketball team after guiding the Bantams to the NESCAC Championship Tournament in two of her first three seasons. Trinity finished 10-13 last winter with a squad including just two seniors and one junior, and looks to climb the ladder in the always-tough NESCAC in 2008-09. Davis is 30-40 in her three years as the Bantam head coach.

Prior to Trinity, Davis enjoyed a highly successful six year stint at Western New England College, posting a 105-55 record with conference post-season bids each year and ECAC bids in 2002 and 2005. In 2004-05, Davis was named as the Great Northeast Athletic Conference (GNAC) Coach of the Year, as the Golden Bears posted a 19-8 record. She also served as an assistant coach at the University of Connecticut in 1993-94.

Davis earned her bachelor's degree in elementary education from the University of Connecticut in 1992 and added a master's degree from her alma mater in 1994, while helping the perennial women's basketball national power earn four NCAA bids and a trip to the NCAA Final Four in 1991. The seventh-leading scorer in UConn women's basketball history, Davis was a three-time Academic All-American and made the all-tournament team in the 1991 NCAA Regional Championship.

Assistant Coach Bob D'Angelo begins his fourth year at Trinity in 2008-2009, after arriving with Davis for the 2005-06 season, providing over 25 years of coaching experience at several levels including the previous three years as an assistant coach at Westfield State College. D'Angelo also coached the Southington High School men's team for 10 years and the women's teams at Southington, Granby, and Farmington High Schools from 1996 to 2002. He guided the Southington high women's squad to a Connecticut state title. A graduate of Central Connecticut State University, D'Angelo was a recreational counselor for the Town of Southington for 25 years and has been actively involved in youth sports programs camps in the area for over 30 years.

Michael D'Angelo, son of fellow assistant coach Bob D'Angelo, also begins his fourth year on the Bantam women's basketball coaching staff. Mike D'Angelo was a three-year assistant coach at Westfield State and has spent several years coaching all ages of both boys and girls AAU basketball. He earned his bachelor's degree in education from Westfield State College in 2005.

Mary Bushnell begins her first season as assistant women's soccer coach at Trinity. A 2005 graduate of Connecticut College with a bachelor's degree in English and American Studies, Bushnell was an English teacher and an assistant men's soccer and men's basketball coach at St. Thomas More Prep School from 2005 to 2008. A four-year letterwinner in basketball and soccer at Conn. College, Bushnell was team captain for both squads and a two-time, NESCAC All-Academic honoree. She will also serve as an assistant women's soccer coach at Trinity, where she is pursuing a master's degree as a graduate assistant.

About the NESCAC

Founded in 1971, the New England Small College Athletic Conference (NESCAC) is a group of eleven highly selective liberal arts colleges and universities that share a similar philosophy for intercollegiate athletics. The Conference was created out of a concern for the direction of intercollegiate athletic programs, and remains committed to keeping a proper perspective on the role of sport in higher education.

The formation of NESCAC originated with an agreement among Amherst College, Bowdoin College, Wesleyan University and Williams College first drafted in 1955. Along with these four institutions, Bates College, Colby College, Hamilton College, Middlebury College, Trinity College and Tufts University are sustaining charter members. Connecticut College joined in 1982, bringing the Conference's membership to its current total of 11 institutions.

NESCAC members believe intercollegiate athletic programs should operate in harmony with the educational mission of each institution. The Conference is committed to establishing common boundaries to keep athletics strong but in proportion to the overall academic mission of the member institutions. In pursuit of this mission, the Presidents of each NESCAC institution control intercollegiate athletic policy. Conference tenets are usually more restrictive than those of the NCAA Division III with regard to season length, number of contests and post-season competition.

NESCAC institutions also believe athletic teams should be representative of the entire student body. Thus, admissions and financial policies are consistent with the NCAA Division III policies that prohibit athletic scholarships and award financial aid solely on the basis of need.

In 1999, the NESCAC formally became a playing conference and now sponsors 26 conference championship sports (13 for men and 13 for women). Member schools offer extensive and broad based intercollegiate as well as club and intramural opportunities for both men and women. With member institutions sponsoring an average of nearly 30 varsity programs, NESCAC provides more than 7,500 opportunities for participation in intercollegiate competition at the Division III level. Teams and individuals have achieved great success on both a regional and national level. During the 2007-08 academic year, 54 teams participated in NCAA team championships. NESCAC student-athletes claimed 22 individual national championships and NESCAC teams won seven national team championships.
